OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

October 12, 2015

Dear Friends and Supporters of Living University,

Classes have resumed following the fall festival recess. Our students, faculty and staff appear to have traveled to the four corners of the earth for the festival. We are receiving exciting news of excellent sermons and activities.

My wife and I attended the Feast of Tabernacles site at the Innisbrook Resort in Palm Harbor, Florida, with our daughter and two of our grandchildren. The weather cooperated and out of the 57 Feasts in my life it was one of the best, if not the best FOT I have attended. My first feast was in 1959 at Big Sandy, Texas. I hope you found the feast motivating and truly fulfilling in your spiritual life as well. The Feasts are a wonderful blessing.

At several of the sites Living University presented "Meet and Greet" sessions for current students, prospective students, and for all interested in learning more about LU and its programs, activities and resources. In the session I hosted, several spoke of their experiences and shared their excitement. One woman told us that she had taken the two accounting courses offered at LU and the skills she gained led to a job applying those skills. Others told of their experiences and support for what God is accomplishing through His University.

A team of examiners from the State of North Carolina plan to be at LU on Monday, November 16, to assess our readiness to offer an associate of arts (A.A.) degree and degree minors in business and communications. Please join us in prayer for success. An A.A. degree program will particularly benefit the young adults in our church family. I plan to write to you following the visit and let you know how the visit went.

I am enclosing your copy of the latest edition of Illumination produced by LU students, faculty and staff.

Thank you again for your prayerful and continued financial support of Living University. You are truly helping to make a tremendous difference! We are encouraged and excited to see more of God's people enrolling in His University for a more in-depth exposure to His Word and awesome Way of Life. We thank you for your prayers and ongoing support.

Warmest personal regards,

Michael P. Germano, Ed.D, J.D.
